Bobby Owen was born and raised in Prince George County, Virginia where he touched the hearts of all who knew him. Although his life was ended at the early age of 38, his memory lives on through a new memorial scholarship in his name.

Bobby graduated from Prince George High School in 1983. He furthered his education by earning a degree from John Tyler Community College and studying criminology at Virginia Commonwealth University. Though he worked for Infineon Technologies in Henrico County for more than nine years, his true love was emergency services and public safety. Bobby worked with the security department at Infineon on a variety of safety issues, including control of hazardous material. Off the job, he enjoyed riding with Henrico police officers on the night shift and did the same with the fire department and Emergency Medical Services.

His family, as well as Bobby’s life-long friends, wanted to do something meaningful in memory of their lost loved one and honor his passion and dedication to public safety. They decided to create an annual scholarship at John Randolph Foundation to assist students involved in the type of volunteer work that Bobby so enjoyed.

One of Bobby’s favorite things to do when he wasn’t helping others was to play golf, so naturally all who were involved agreed upon the idea for a golf tournament fundraiser.

New Board Member

Dr. Jerome D. Skaggs

At John Randolph Foundation’s January Board Meeting, Dr. Gurpal S. Bhuller was recognized for his years of service as a member of the Board of Trustees.

The outgoing President, Brenda S. Pelham, applauded Dr. Bhuller’s tenure stating, “Since 1995, Dr. Bhuller has been a dedicated member of the Board with invaluable insight and input. His long and devoted service on the Board demonstrates his commitment to the well-being of our community.”

Replacing Dr. Bhuller on the Foundation’s Board is Dr. Jerome D. Skaggs.

Dr. Skaggs has practiced family medicine in Hopewell since 1964 and has supported the Foundation’s mission by funding the Joan Glascock Skaggs Nursing Scholarship. Dr. Skaggs created this scholarship at the Foundation in 1998 in memory of his late wife, Joan, to help students pursuing careers as Registered Nurses. Dr. Skaggs is also active in the community. In January 2004, he was awarded the Community Person of the Year Award by the Hopewell-Prince George Chamber of Commerce in recognition of his tireless efforts volunteering for a number of local organizations.

In addition, the Foundation announced that the following officers have been appointed for the upcoming year:

Ronald K. Bullis, Ph.D. President
Anne Page Henry Vice-President
F. Zane Blevins Secretary
Thomas R. Blount Treasurer
Brenda S. Pelham Immediate Past President

Other Foundation Trustees include:
Marlene G. Goodwyn, Onza E. Hyatt, C. Bishop Knott, Jr. and Jerome D. Skaggs, M.D.

Spotlight / Dr. Ronald K. Bullis

John Randolph Foundation’s newest President has demonstrated a lifelong passion for learning and helping others. Dr. Ronald Bullis is currently the pastor of First Presbyterian Church in Hopewell. He is also an adjunct professor at Averett College where he teaches a master’s degree course in law, and undergraduate classes in ethics and the old and new testaments in the Bible.

A member of First Presbyterian Church asked Dr. Bullis to serve on the John Randolph Foundation’s Board. He had heard of the Foundation’s good work and said he would “be privileged to be a part of such a helpful, exciting organization in the community.”

Originally from Seneca Falls, NY, Dr. Bullis attended Hartwick College in Oneonta, NY, and earned a bachelor of arts degree in English education. He then received a masters of divinity from Princeton Theological Seminary. Dr. Bullis broadened his education by attending Syracuse University’s College of Law and graduated with a Juris Doctor. He went on to study clinical social work and earned his Ph.D. According to Lisa Sharpe, Executive Director of John Randolph Foundation, “Dr. Bullis’ education and experience have made him a respected educator, counselor and leader in Hopewell and the surrounding areas.”

Dr. Bullis has served on the Board of Trustees for six years and has been active on several committees, including serving as the Chairman of the Scholarship Committee. He was appointed President of the Board in early 2005, and views the role of president as “challenging and rewarding work.” He looks forward to his term because, as he stated, “I have an abiding interest in the mental and spiritual health of this community, and John Randolph Foundation plays a vital role in the wellness of our residents.”
With financial assistance from John Randolph Foundation, Central Virginia Health Services, a non-profit healthcare organization, opened the new Hopewell-Prince George Community Health Center on November 29, 2004. The Health Center, located at 4260 Crossings Boulevard, is a medical practice which offers a full range of primary care services, including clinical care (both medical and dental), laboratory services and medication assistance.

The Health Center’s purpose is to provide the medically underserved with quality, affordable, comprehensive medical and dental care from board certified health care providers and support staff. Many factors can lead to not having access to health care, such as financial difficulties, limited language skills, geography, being underinsured or having no insurance at all.

The Health Center offers its services on a sliding fee for income eligible individuals. Generally, patients will be required to contribute to their healthcare by making a small co-pay; usually no more than $12, and in some cases less. However, no one will ever be turned away because of inability to pay. Some may even qualify for free medications.

The Center also takes most insurance plans, including Medicaid HMO’s. Many employers are now making their employees pay more for their insurance, often in the form of higher deductibles or co-pays. For low-income insured individuals, the Center will also slide these deductibles and co-pays. Insured or not, patients may request an eligibility screening to determine their payment amount. Staff will review the patient’s proof of income and help them determine how much they will pay.

Although the Hopewell-Prince George Community Health Center has just become a full-time, free standing site, it is one of ten different CVHS locations in central Virginia. The Health Center gets one-third of its budget from government grants. The rest of the budget comes from grants from John Randolph Foundation and other entities, private donations and an endowment fund at John Randolph Foundation. The purpose of the endowment is to provide long-term financial support for the operational expenses of the Health Center. According to Lisa Sharpe, Executive Director at John Randolph Foundation, “The Foundation’s Endowed Fund will assure that the Clinic will operate for many years to come, and meet the health and dental needs of persons in our community who may be unable to afford it otherwise.” The clinic will also reduce unnecessary use of the local emergency room and hospitalizations that could be managed in a primary care setting. The Foundation is committed to “growing the fund” and as such matched contributions from the community with 50 cents for each dollar donated through January 31, 2005.

Should you have any questions regarding the Endowment Fund for the Health Center, please call Lisa Sharpe at John Randolph Foundation, 458-2239. For questions regarding the clinic, please call 452-5800 or 359-0477.
2004 Grants

OHN Randolph Foundation reviews regular grant requests twice a year, once in the spring and once in the fall. The review process begins in February for the spring and in August for the fall. Each cycle begins with submission of a three-page concept paper explaining the project for which funding is requested. Concept papers are reviewed, and organizations are either denied or invited to submit a formal proposal. During the fall 2004 cycle, 32 concept papers were submitted, of which 25 were invited to submit a formal proposal, and 20 received funding. Following is a list of the grants awarded in fall 2004. Please note, while each grant is listed under one category, some may fit multiple categories. A list of spring 2005 grants will be published in JRF's fall/winter newsletter.

Access to Care

It is imperative that all citizens in the John Randolph Foundation’s service area are able to access affordable medical treatment, prescription medications and emergency and preventive care. As such, funds are made available for programs that provide high quality, appropriate care for those who cannot afford and/or access services.

Hopewell Redevelopment and Housing Authority
$20,000 to fund a home health program for elderly, disabled or handicapped residents at its Kippax housing development.

Southside Virginia Emergency Crew
$20,000 to purchase a new ambulance.

Virginia Blood Services
$7,500 to assist in implementing an apheresis platelet donor program at its Chester Center.

Virginia Dental Health Foundation’s Donated Dental Services Program
$10,000 to fund an Assistant Project Coordinator’s salary.

Prevention/Wellness

Programs that prevent disease and encourage healthy lifestyles, as well as those that improve the health and safety of various segments of the population, are seen as vitally important to the overall well-being of community residents.

Crater Health District Resource Mother’s Program
$15,000 for general operational expenses associated with teenage pregnancy prevention programs and one-on-one mentoring for pregnant and parenting teenagers.

Hopewell-Prince George Healthy Families
$68,300 for general operations to support home-based support services to at-risk families for up to five years after the birth of a child and to implement a new Fatherhood Program.

Education

Studies have proven that there is a direct link between the educational level of a community and its overall health status. Therefore, the John Randolph Foundation provides a variety of educational projects.

The Children’s Home of Virginia Baptists, Inc.
$5,000 to assist in providing honorariums for tutors in their Achiever’s Plus Program which assists middle school students with homework.

John Tyler Community College
$25,000 to fund a full-time nursing lab assistant’s salary.

Tri-City Literacy Council
$10,000 to support their Basic Literacy and English as a Second Language programs.

Quality of Life

“Healthy Communities” is often used to describe an approach to grant-making that focuses on improving public health and quality of life in a community. John Randolph Foundation supports a broad range of organizations that affect the health and well-being of individuals through creative programs, while at the same time promoting the quality of life and overall wellness of the community.

Boy Scouts of America
$5,000 to continue Scoutreach Programs for youth in Hopewell.

Christmas in April
$5,000 to increase the number of houses they repair in 2005 and to develop a Home Modification Program with the assistance of occupational therapists.

Hopewell-Prince George Chapter of the American Red Cross
$23,000 to provide disaster and safety training, to provide assistance to families for heating and cooling and to develop a youth program in collaboration with other area youth programs.

Retired and Senior Volunteer Program
$15,000 to provide operating funds that support volunteers in their work in local hospitals, health clinics, nursing homes and other non-profit organizations.

The Salvation Army
$7,000 to fund the Family Service Program in Hopewell which supports the basic needs of at-risk families interested in a better quality of life.
Tri-Cities Habitat for Humanity
$20,000 to build two homes for indigent families in Dinwiddie County.

Mental Health/Retardation, Substance Abuse
Often overlooked in our society as legitimate health concerns, mental health, mental retardation and substance abuse issues are directly linked to the overall health of the community. John Randolph Foundation awards grants to organizations that provide a variety of services that address these three areas.

Chesterfield-Colonial Heights Drug Court Foundation
$15,000 to provide home-based counseling services to clients and their families and to provide a family resource library.

Comfort Zone Camp
$20,000 to assist in funding eight weekend camps, a week-long reunion camp and grief support groups for children and their families that have suffered the loss of a family member.

Domestic Violence Intervention Project
$17,500 to fund services for families and children affected by domestic violence.

Happy Acres Foundation
$10,000 to increase summer camp participation for disabled children.

Serenity
$15,000 to provide day support programming for individuals living with HIV/AIDS and their families and provide alcohol and substance abuse support services and interventions.

Community Contribution Grants
Community Contribution Grants are designed to assist organizations that typically have smaller funding requests for annual events or projects. These grant applications may be submitted at any time during the year and typically do not require the in-depth information that our regular grant requests do. The maximum amount of a Community Contribution Grant is $1,000. Following are organizations that have received Community Contribution Grants in 2004.

Appomattox Regional Library System
To sponsor the 2004 Summer Reading Program.

Arthritis Foundation, Virginia Chapter
To provide funding for arthritis research and to provide needed services and wellness programs for people with arthritis in the Tri-Cities area.

Big Brothers Big Sisters, Inc.
To support a pilot program to offer parent education in Hopewell in partnership with the Regional Drug Free Alliance and the Hopewell Interagency Management Team.

Carter Woodson Middle School’s Literary Magazine Club
To assist with printing the club’s 2003-2004 literary magazine.

Central Virginia Health Services
To assist with costs associated with the grand opening of the Hopewell/PG Community Health Center.

Chester Middle School
To support a program that is designed to teach mildly mentally disabled students academic, social and life skills through day-to-day operation of a “student bookstore.”

Colonial Heights High School Commonwealth Alliance for Drug Rehabilitation and Education (CADRE)
To assist with bringing in a speaker to talk with the Colonial Heights High School student body regarding alcohol and drug abuse.

Colonial Heights High School After Prom Committee
To defray the costs of its annual after-prom celebration to promote drug and alcohol free activities for high school students.

Crater Health District
To provide funding for cholesterol and glucose screenings.

Hopewell Public Schools Parent Resource Center
To assist with expenses associated with the Annual Family Resource Gala held at Hopewell High School.

Hopewell High School After Prom Committee
To defray the costs of its annual after-prom celebration to promote drug and alcohol free activities for high school students.

Hopewell Recreation and Parks
To fund children’s entertainment at the Hooray for Hopewell Festival.

James House Invention/Prevention Services
To assist families served by the James House at Christmas time.

Petersburg Foundation
To provide scholarships for persons to attend Leadership Southside classes.

Prince George High School Parent Teacher Association
To defray the costs of its annual after-prom celebration to promote drug and alcohol free activities for high school students.

Prince George County Social Services
Emergency Shelter and Operations
To purchase “cots and quickbeds” for use by emergency personnel during disaster relief efforts.
The first Bobby Owen Memorial Scholarship Golf Tournament was held at Jordan Point Country Club in October 2003, and was a success, raising more than $6,000. The tournament is set to take place annually, and this year’s tournament was held on Friday, May 6th.

When Bobby’s father, Robert H. Owen, III, was asked why he decided to start this scholarship, he said that he wanted to do something in memory of his son. “Bobby really enjoyed life and was an inspiration to all of us.” He added that, “Bobby had this unique ability to make other people feel good. He was never fake...what you saw was what you got, and people really appreciated him for that.”

Bobby’s family and friends established this $1,000 scholarship to assist local students who have volunteered as junior fire fighters, junior police officers or emergency medical technicians, have a desire to pursue such endeavors in their lives, or are the dependents of a fireman, policeman or EMT. The scholarship is awarded to a student residing in Prince George, Enon or Varina. The first scholarship was awarded to Joe Dollette, a senior at Prince George High School, in June 2004. John Randolph Foundation administers the scholarship and will continue to accept donations in Bobby’s memory. Proceeds from the golf tournaments, along with other gifts, are invested by the Foundation to promote the perpetuity of Bobby’s scholarship. If you are interested in contributing to the scholarship or learning more about John Randolph Foundation’s scholarship program, please contact the Foundation at (804) 458-2239.

A Message From the JRF Board of Trustees and Staff: Thank You For Everything

Thank you to each and every individual, couple, family, group, business, corporation and agency that contributes to the John Randolph Foundation. Your donations are an investment in our community and create opportunities for John Randolph Foundation to support local non-profit organizations working to make our area a better place to live.
ACh year John Randolph Foundation’s Board of Trustees encourages gifts from our community to assist us in carrying out our mission to improve the health and quality of life for people in Hopewell and the surrounding area through various grant and scholarship programs and activities.

While some donors restrict their gifts for a certain purpose, many others specify that their gifts are unrestricted, to be used by the Foundation Board according to greatest need.

In this edition of the John Randolph Foundation newsletter, the Board of Trustees recognizes all contributors from January 1, 2004 through December 31, 2004. These gifts not only supported John Randolph Foundation’s various grant and scholarship programs, but also helped support other aspects of our mission.

On behalf of the Board of Trustees and all those lives that your donations helped to improve, please accept our heartfelt thanks.

Glenda B. Hayes was a recent recipient of the “Great Catch” Award presented by the Hopewell/Prince George Chamber of Commerce at their annual dinner. This award is in recognition of Mrs. Hayes’ positive attitude at work, her willingness to be a team player, for doing a “whale of a job and having boat loads of fun doing it.”

Mrs. Hayes worked in the Human Resources Department at John Randolph Medical Center for sixteen years, and has been on the staff at John Randolph Foundation for the last nine years. When asked why she has such a cheerful approach to work, Mrs. Hayes responded, “My early personal life experiences molded me to make the most out of each day because tomorrow is not promised.” Mrs. Hayes also stated that she strives to be the best worker she can be and enjoys each workday because of the potential to touch someone’s life in a positive way. “Simply put,” she said, “I look for the good in every person and every situation.”

Lisa Sharpe, Executive Director of John Randolph Foundation, is proud and thankful to have such an outstanding individual working at the Foundation. According to Mrs. Sharpe, “Part of our mission at the Foundation is to improve the quality of life of our residents, and Glenda fosters that mission by brightening the day of everyone with whom she comes in contact.”
John Randolph Foundation recognizes those who have helped secure its future by making gifts through their wills or other planned gift arrangements.
